Mission Statement

In accordance with the University's Globalization Initiative, the Office of International Programs is committed to promoting global awareness, understanding, and education for students, faculty and staff. OIP is leading the effort to enhance the international competencies of NC A&T graduates, faculty and staff by:

- creating access to international and cross-cultural experiences through study abroad and exchange programs;
- on-campus workshops;
- lectures and cultural events;
- the Global Studies Certificate Program for undergraduate students;
- and the hosting of international visitors to the university.

The Office of International Programs is the depository of the Memoranda of Understanding between NC A&T and overseas institutions.
