LIVING AND LEARNING COMMUNITIES

The Department of Housing and Residence Life strives to promote educational excellence in the future by increasing retention for North Carolina Agricultural and Technical State University. Through strong cooperation with Student Affairs and Student Affairs, the Aggie Living and Learning Communities enable residents to experience an enriched community supporting his/her academic and career aspirations. Moreover, the Department of Housing and Residence Life recognizes the importance of life skills for the employability of our students. As such, for life skills, we focus on a Residential Curriculum guiding students toward competencies in critical thinking and decision-making, civic responsibility, character, ethics, and communication.

Below are current Living and Learning Communities implemented by the Department of Housing and Residence Life:

The Department of Housing and Residence Life seeks to create environments that focus more on academic studies. In these areas, there are strict community agreements that must remain. They must also sign community agreements complying with the Department of Housing and Residence Life policy, and 2.8 minimum semester GPA requirement.
