Ronald E. McNair Post Baccalaureate Achievement Program

"Before you can make a dream come true, you must first have one..." - Ronald E. McNair

The Ronald E. McNair Post Baccalaureate Achievement Program is funded by the U.S. Department of Education to prepare and encourage students under-represented in graduate education to consider careers in college teaching and to prepare them for graduate study that leads to a doctorate degree. Named for the North Carolina A&T State University magna cum laude graduate, the program at A&T was funded in 1990 as a multi-discipline comprehensive academic support program consisting of an Academic Year Program and a Summer Research Program.
