Welcome to the web site of the Office of Veteran Services at North Carolina Agricultural and Technical State University in Greensboro, North Carolina. Through its efforts, we encourage, nurture, educate, support, and assist many students. Services are designed for the students who come with the many different challenges. The Office of Veteran and Disability Support Services helps overcome these challenges.

This office was officially opened in the 1960's as the Office of Veteran Affairs. As time went by and the Rehabilitation Center the office then became known as Veterans and Disability Affairs. It kept that name until about 1993 when it became the Office of Veteran and Disability Support Services. Our mission statement...

The Office of Veteran and Disability Support Services is an integral unit of the Division of Student Affairs. We assist students by providing and promoting even more services to increase their skills used to enhance intellectual, personal and physical competencies. We encourage the students, faculty and staff to promote the success of all students to ensure recognition of their abilities for total development. If there is anything we can do to help your student succeed at North Carolina A&T State University progress efficiently.
