- What is Student Technology Services (STS)?
STS is work-based program that allows students to explore Information Technology related experiences that is run by students for students at North Carolina A & T State University.
- Who may apply to work for STS?
All students of North Carolina A & T may apply to work for STS regardless of major or background. STS works with a diverse range of students to build a network of consultants for maximum performance and efficiency.
- Why STS?
STS offers students more than just a paying job but a real life working experiences. The skills that students learn through STS can help them develop key skill sets necessary for the world market place. STS maintains relations/positions in Bluford Library, Aggie Help-Desk, RESNET (Campus Networking Solution for Students) and Video Support through the television studio.
