The Office of Evening and Weekend Programs advocates for evening scheduling as an alternative to day programs. You may have experienced a career change, wish to resume college work after an interruption in studies, or are interested in personal and educational development. If you work full-time, have family responsibilities, or for other reasons cannot attend college during the day, you may still pursue a baccalaureate or masters degree by taking courses in the evenings or on the weekend. Courses are offered year round and during the summer.

Evening degree programs are of the same quality, demand the same rigor, and utilize the same instructors as sections offered during the day.

Several graduate degree programs are also offered during evening hours:

Students may apply for financial assistance through the University's Office of Student financial aid. North Carolina A&T State University is committed to meeting the needs of all its students in an affordable, convenient and friendly environment. Majors offered by the Office of Evening and Weekend Programs are subject to change or expand to meet the variety of interest and growing needs of our students.

We encourage you to explore opportunities offered by the Office of Evening and Weekend Programs. For Information contact:
